Giving back to our community

We enjoy sharing our music with the Greater Victoria community and we are delighted to announce our 2010-2011 Community Concert offer:

Community Concerts are one hour long (no intermission) and each work is introduced and explained by the musicians. This makes these concerts enjoyable, educational, and highly accessible for any audience.

*We perform these concerts only during daytime hours between 10am - 4pm for a reduced fee of $95 per concert.**

Take advantage of our offer by booking us today:

Erik Abbink
250.477.5413 or e.abbink@gmail.com

Piano requirement: It is extremely important that the piano is reasonably in tune (A=440) as it is impossible to adjust the pitch much (up or down) on a saxophone.

**Venue must offer free admission to their audience, otherwise our regular recital fee applies. Long distance travel charges might apply for venues outside Greater Victoria. Contact Erik for more information.*

Erik Abbink, *saxophone

Erik Abbink is a Victoria based saxophonist who enjoys performing with ensembles such as the Vis-a-Vis Saxophone Quartet and Palm Court Orchestra.

Mr. Abbink started his studies in the Netherlands. During a fall residency at the Banff Centre for the Arts he met Victoria pianist Jacqueline Perriam with whom he soon got married. They relocated to Canada's West Coast eight years ago, and counting.

Erik is a strong advocate of inspiring audiences by bringing innovative programs that can bring a unique audience experience.

Mr. Abbink is finishing up his doctoral degree (DMA) in Saxophone Performance at the University of British Columbia with Vancouver's finest saxophonist Julia Nolan, and enjoys travelling abroad having given concerts in the United States, Europe and Asia.

Nola Strand, *piano

Nola grew up in Merritt B.C., where she began taking piano lessons at the age of 6. This led to UVic, where she finished her B.Mus in 2005.

She is currently the music director at the James Bay United Church, and works as a freelance accompanist and teacher.
